

GENERAL STATEMENT OF POLICY ON QUALITY STANDARDS

An 'assured' quality of products and services is now a normal expectation of clients. Our understanding of improvements in quality standards is underpinned by our management system and our commitment to the provision of the very highest standards of service.

Rigorous internal and external auditing of: staff, equipment and processes provides an excellent support mechanism for maintenance of such quality standards.

Directors at Westfield Group UK Ltd undertake in the recruitment of appropriately qualified and experienced management, supervisors and operatives which means our service is reliable.

Due to impeccable administration and attentive process control our clients really can be assured of a seamless delivery, all of which is monitored at each level and by definition promotes a continuous improvement culture.